The voice of freelancing

PCG: supporting and protecting freelancers, contractors and consultants

PCG recognises the contribution of a wide range of stakeholders in the freelance marketplace and invites them to join as PCG affiliate members.

PCG wants to encourage suppliers to the freelance working place to work with us to develop added value services for members.

The willingness of your business to develop such services and engage in joint promotional projects with PCG will show us your determination to support and promote the Freelance way of working.

Affiliate membership allows privileged access to around 19,500 members who work in IT, project management, accounting, engineering, oil and gas, interim management and many other sectors.

You will be provided with your own dedicated page on the PCG website where you can showcase your business and you will also be given access to the PCG online discussion forums where you can communicate with members.

Affiliate members have the opportunity to advertise in both our quarterly publication Freelancing Matters, distributed to around 30,000 freelancers, and our fortnightly newsletter which is circulated to all members.

There is also plenty of scope to get involved at PCG events or perhaps even present at a member meeting.

How to join

Affiliate membership costs just £575 plus VAT in the first year which includes one eighth page advertisement in PCG's quarterly magazine Freelancing Matters and a complimentary invitation for a company representative to attend one of the planned regional lunch gatherings, due to commence in November. Annual renewal fees are £350 plus vat.

If you would like to join PCG as an affiliate member or would like any further information please email admin@pcg.org.uk for an application form.

NB. Affiliate membership for Accountancy practices is only available via PCG's Accredited Accountant scheme.
